

INTERCONSULTING STUDIO ASSOCIATO

INTERCONSULTING STUDIO ASSOCIATO was born in 1988 from an idea of Gilberto Gelosa, dottore commercialista, professor and corporate tax expert, and it has been growing year by year thanks to a professional collaboration with other valuable lawyers, tax and corporate counsels and dottori commercialisti.

The firm's aim is to provide complete and multidisciplinary advice to our clients companies, with high degree of specialization in different sectors, above all in tax and legal issues, suggesting and implementing comprehensive and realistic solutions, always maintaining personalized relationships with each client.

Thanks to our well-established team of professionals, we can properly assist and recommend a demanding customer for a wide range of services that can be grouped into 3 business areas:

TAX – LEGAL – BUSINESS

The firm also collaborates with external highly skilled professionals offering their assistance in business and legal fields.

Interconsulting Network and Pragma, the international network

Pragma is represented in Italy by Interconsulting Network, a multidisciplinary advisory firm.

The practices and companies associated with Interconsulting operate directly with the customers across all country.

These associates are independent legal entities all linked by their membership to common operative values:

- common IT and facilities
- a kind of assistance of the highest efficiency and specialization
- utmost professional consciousness.

PRAGMA is a greek word that means business, legal transaction, but also useful thing.

Present in almost all Europe and America, the PRAGMA Scarl has its own legal office in Bruxelles and the operative one in Lille.

Our firm is member of a Network, Pragma, a worldwide group of business advisors. It was founded in 2000 on an idea of four European studios of lawyers and dottori commercialisti, after having worked together for more than ten years. They unite their expertises to respond adequately to the changing needs of companies' clients that are facing new Europe and increasing globalization of the markets.

Pragma is present in every economic sector and dedicate the same care and resources to all of its clients: multinational groups, medium or small enterprises and people.

Pragma counts on more than three hundred-fifty dottori commercialisti and lawyers and therefore is the first network, with a typical latin character and sensibility, that stands out of for its capacity on solving complex business and legal problems.

The members of this association consider the discipline as a means, not as a goal. Pragma operates in the same sectors as
